Grand Jury Bills In LSD Sale Case

A Canyon High School senior was charged Tuesday with the sale of a dangerous drug and the school board met in emergency session Tuesday night to discuss use of drugs, glue sniffing, drinking and other misbehavior on the high school campus.

Charged with sale of a capsule containing lysergic acid, LSD, to a fellow student is Randy Simpson, 17 years old, 4404 Sherwood Lane, Amarillo.

Simpson was indicted by a Randall County grand jury Wednesday afternoon. He remained in jail late Wednesday in lieu of $5,000 bond.

He was arrested Tuesday morning at his home after he failed to show up at school.

Spearheading an investigation which eventually led to Simpson's arrest was Canyon Police Chief Calvin Costley. Costley said he began the investigation five months ago and has had Simpson under surveillance for the past four months.

Simpson is specifically charged with sale of an LSD capsule to Dwayne Patterson, 18, also a high school senior here. Patterson is the police chief's brother-in-law.

Costley said Patterson bought the pill for $5. Under questioning, Simpson is reported to have told officers he bought the drug from a complete stranger at an Amarillo drive in cafe.

Costley said the capsule actually cost $10 as Patterson proffered a $10 bill after its serial number had been recorded. He refused change saying he would take another pill the following day.

The capsule was analyzed by Bill Dunn, chemist with the Amarillo Health Department, and found to contain lysergic acid.

Simpson was questioned throughout the day Tuesday but steadfastly stuck to his story of having bought the capsule from a stranger in Amarillo. He said it was the only one he ever had.

Officers also questioned 11 other Canyon High School students in an effort to shed more light on the case.

"So far only three or four have actually been involved," said Costley. "We were just questioning the others on the chance that they might have

Suppression Complaint Hurled By Campus Cop

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

Joe Lackey, a student at West Texas State University, mailed his formal resignation to the campus Security Department Wednesday morning after charging the Security Department and Student Financial Aids Department with suppressing social and political dissent.

The charges brought prompt denials both from the Campus Security Department and the Student Financial Aids Department.

Lackey, in a letter to the "Prairie" Friday, charged the Security Department of compiling a file on all students known to advocate such actions as writing in the names of Senator Eugene McCarthy and Mayor John Lindsay for president and vice president.

He also charged the Financial Aids Department with threatening to eliminate financial aid to those students participating in inter-racial dating, in efforts to further the cause of the Students for a Democratic Society and in efforts to organize a political club which would be affiliated with a national fourth party.

Lackey said that a member of the Security Department instructed him to make a list of license numbers of cars having McCarthy-Lindsay bumper stickers on campus.

He said that he did not carry out the orders and resigned because of this.

Lackey said he talked with Bobby Hudson, head of the Security Department Friday about the charges.

"Hudson indicated that I should resign if I couldn't carry out his policies. He (Hudson) said that we (the Security Department) have information to the effect that people supporting McCarthy-Lindsay are SDS people," Lackey said.

Lackey said that he had seen a list of names in the Security Department but that he didn't know if the list was complete.

Lackey said, "I made the statements in the letter Friday and I will stand behind them. I also want to avoid introducing personalities into this. I am objecting to a security department policy and not to any personality in the department."

Bobby Hudson was at Texas A & M University attending a meeting of campus security officers and was unavailable for comment.

Al Potts, in charge of the department during Hudson's absence, said Wednesday morning that the department had not received a resignation from Lackey.

Potts said that Lackey was not instructed to write down the license numbers. "I didn't tell him to and I didn't write down any numbers," Potts said.

"Everybody in law enforcement watches this kind of thing to try to keep down trouble. I didn't pay too much attention because with all the other stickers going around such as Ban the Bomb there must be 5 or 6,000 and it's not only college students, it's everybody," Potts said.

"That's their privilege to support a candidate. I supported mine," he said.

As to the charges against the Financial Aids Department, Lackey said he got his information from students who had been threatened with the discontinuance of their aid for the reasons he stated.

"I know of one student whose aid was revoked because he was considered to be a member of SDS," Lackey said.

Lackey refused to give the names of these students without their consent.

Buff Morris, head of Financial Aids, said he didn't know what Lackey was talking about. He said that political affiliations were never discussed with students.

Clifford Baker, assistant to Morris, said "We don't know that much about the students."

Morris said the department checked on references presented by the students, on the budgets they present and their transcripts and test scores.

The students are required to sign an agreement to uphold traffic and parking regulations, residence requirements and general policies of student life. Any student whose behavior is not in accord with this may have his aid reviewed or revoked, Morris said.

As to inter-racial dating, Morris said it would be better if students didn't date members of other races but that this question had never come up in the department.

"If a white girl owes me some money and is married to a Negro, she has less chance of getting a job and paying us back," he declared.

Morris said that the department had gone out of its way to provide aid to Negro students and was not aware of a single Negro student who had been denied aid.

Car Wash Scheduled

Faith Student Center is sponsoring a car wash at the Magic Wand across from the Fine Arts Building beginning at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The car wash will close at 6 o'clock.

Cars will be washed for $1.25. For pick up and delivery call OL5-4770.

Dry Hole Plugged

Shell Oil Company has pulled out its equipment and has plugged the Shell-Nester Number 1, a wildcat test a mile east of Canyon.

The wildcat was drilled on land belonging to Dr. Charles R. Nester.

It was called a dry hole and plugged. Decision to plug is reported to have come early last week. The well was drilled to a depth of 8,150 feet.

Shell discredited early reports that there had been a show of petroleum.

The company, which holds extensive leases in Randall County, has announced no further drilling intention.

Officials Would Meet With Data

Randall County commissioners will meet with representatives of Datamedia Corporation to discuss alleged shortcomings of that firm in providing supervisory personnel for the vote count in the recent general election.

Randall County bought electronic voting machines from Datamedia early this year.

Commissioners instructed County Judge Carroll Brown to arrange the meeting.

Judge Brown said the county's purchase contract with Datamedia calls for that firm to supply computer programming and adequate supervisory personnel for elections through 1970.

County Clerk Leroy Hutton told the court that the company furnished him no assistance in preparing for the election and sent only one technician to work the vote count at Killgore Computer Center at West Texas State University election day.

Hutton said the technician would have returned to Dallas before the vote count started Tuesday of last week if he had not been threatened with a district court injunction. The technician, George Maddox, remained here for the vote count.

Commissioner B. R. Jones contended that some of the mix-ups in the vote count such as running the count of precincts together were the fault of the county clerk rather than of Datamedia.

Commissioner Bill Butler disagreed vehemently with Jones declaring that it was the duty of Datamedia to furnish adequate technical assistance and programming to assure that the count would run smoothly.

"It was his (Hutton's) first general election with new machines," said Butler, "and he could not be expected to know all about them."

Jones asked Hutton if he had requested advance help and Hutton replied in the negative.

"You should have reported that to us," declared Commissioner Clarence Beckman.

Hutton also said the firm was late in getting election supplies to him in spite of the fact that the supplies were ordered in mid-September.

Jones pointed out that three precincts were counted together.

"I think the chief election official should have been there to see that it was done right," the commissioner declared.

"Well, I needed to be about six places at one time," Hutton rejoined.

In other business the court divided $4,980.66 paid the county by the federal government in lieu of taxes on Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge among the Umbarger School District, the Canyon School District and the county's four precinct road and bridge funds.

Of the amount $1,737.42 went to the Canyon School District, $2,994.21 to the Umbarger School District and $249.03 to the road and bridge funds.

Professor To Speak

The recognized authority in the field of perceptual-motor difficulties in children, Dr. Newell C. Kephart, will be in Amarillo Friday and at West Texas State University Saturday.

He will speak at 7:45 p.m. Friday at Stephen F. Austin Junior High School. His speech in Amarillo will be directed to parents.

NEWELL C. KEPHART

He will speak to counsellors and physical education teachers on the use of the perceptual motor exercises as related to learning problems at 9 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. Saturday in the ballroom of the Student Union Building at WTSU.

The author and editor of several books in a slow-learning series, Dr. Kephart is formerly of Purdue University and is presently director of Glen Haven Achievement Center at Fort Collins, Colo.

Dr. Kephart's visit is sponsored by the Amarillo Council on Learning Disabilities.

Foreign Students to Meet Again

Foreign students at West Texas State University will hold an informal meeting at 6 p.m. Sunday in the Christian-Presbyterian Student Center.

Anyone interested in meeting the students is invited, according to Dr. Travis McBride, associate professor of government and foreign student advisor.

The meeting will include sandwiches and other snacks and a social hour, McBride said.

McBride said that the foreign students expressed a desire about a month ago to get together with other foreign students and members of the community.

Key Not Lost

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston Monday said the key to the computer test pack needed before votes could be counted in the election last week was never lost as reported by County Clerk Leroy Hutton.

"The key was not lost," the sheriff declared emphatically.

Hutton told The News last Friday that the key having been misplaced was one of the causes for delay in completing the vote count Nov. 5. The count was completed shortly before 11 p.m.

Hutton said the vote count was delayed an hour while he tried to get his hands on the key. He explained that a test run on the computer at Killgore Computer Center prior to the election was required by law and was run the Wednesday before election day.

Test cards were placed in a test pack and the pack was locked. The key was turned over to the sheriff's department, Hutton declared.

Hutton said that when he called for the key Tuesday of last week the sheriff's department was about an hour in producing it for him so he could get on with the count.

Not so, says the county sheriff.

Sheriff Johnston said he knew all along that the key was hanging in the department vault and could have produced it at any time Tuesday if the county clerk had only asked for it.

Monday Hutton admitted that he did not request the key until about 6 p.m. on election day. Johnston said he was on patrol at that time and was out of his car five or ten minutes and so may have been delayed that long in receiving Hutton's request. "I've got my work to do too," he said.

Deputy County Clerk Virginia Byars said the sheriff made contact with her at 6:30 p.m. and immediately gave her the test pack key which she delivered to the computer center on the West Texas State University campus.

"He (Hutton) got the key within a few minutes after he asked for it," the sheriff declared Monday. "I don't think that even held up the count any because it was 15 or 20 minutes after he got the key before he began running the test count."

To Take Bids After Jan. 1 For School

Supertintendent of Schools Jerry Jacobs said Tuesday the school board will probably announce for bids for a proposed new junior high school building in January or February.

Jacobs said basic design for the building has been settled on and a decision is pending on the interior of the building.

Eight teachers from the junior high school were in San Angelo last week visiting John Glen Junior High School to get ideas on the type of structure and curriculum which might be suitable for Canyon.

Dan Trew, principal of the school, said the teachers, during a Tuesday morning discussion, decided Canyon, with what they termed a better staff and students, could offer a better curriculum with better student control.

Phone Tie-In On Schedule

The direct tie-in of the Canyon telephone system with the Amarillo system is progressing on schedule and is still set for Dec. 3.

Bob Tarbet of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company made this assessment of the progress, Tuesday.

The Canyon prefix will be changed from Olive 5 to 655 and the change will also include direct distance dialing to any point in the United States, Tarbet said.

The tie-in was approved by Canyon City Commissioners on Nov. 21, 1966 and was originally scheduled for completion 18 months following that date.

Tarbet said earlier that the delay was due to the shipment of equipment and to the publication of the Amarillo phone directories in December. Canyon numbers will be included in the back of the Amarillo directory.

Charges Filed In Assault

Howard Lee Guffey of Amarillo was charged Wednesday morning with assault with intent to murder in connection with the stabbing of Raymond C. Root, a student at West Texas State University.

A statement on the case was expected from the Randall County Grand Jury Wednesday afternoon. No bond was set for Guffey.

An argument with two employees about midnight Tuesday at the Red Barn restaurant, where Guffey is employed as a dishwasher, resulted in the stabbing of Root in the left wrist, according to Officer Bill Luebs.

Root was treated at Neblett Hospital.

Cowboys Roll On In Toy Bowl Play

Canyon Cowboys of Kids, Inc., trampled Lawndale of Amarillo to score a Toy Bowl victory 42-0 Monday night in Amarillo.

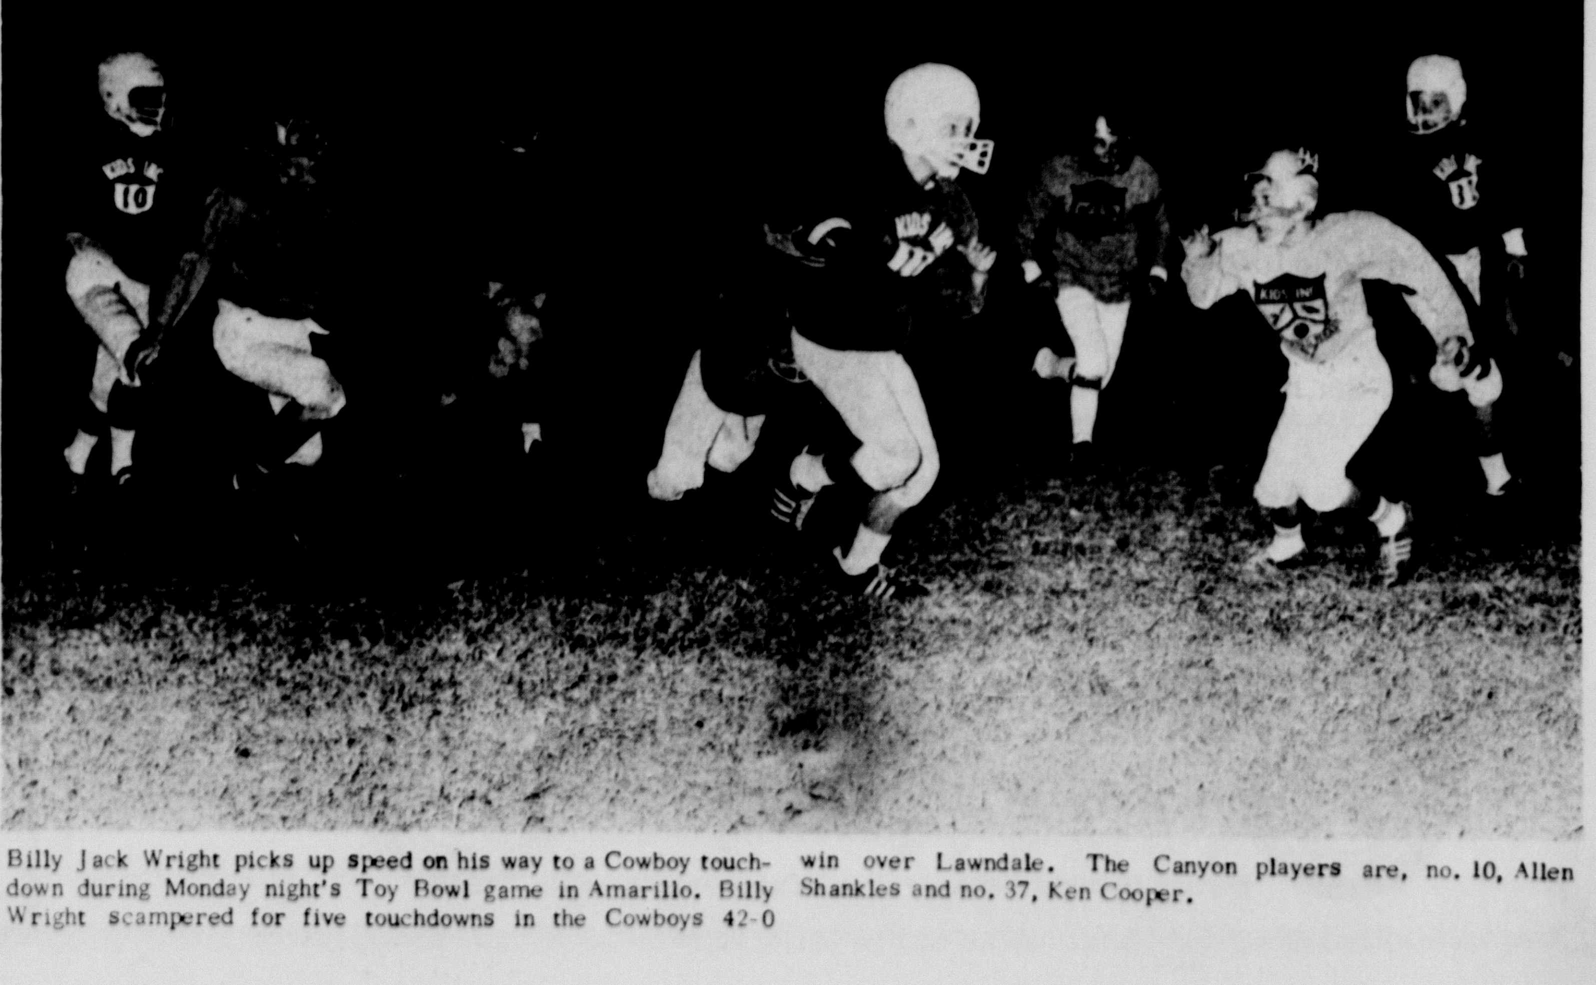
Billy Jack Wright scored five Canyon touchdowns. The Canyon team displayed one of its finest offensive games, scoring a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage when Wright tore off the left side for a 40-yard run.

The Cowboys jumped to a 26-0 halftime lead as the defense and offensive units played their finest hour. Randy Langen led the great rush on defense that continually put Lawndale in the hole. Langen stopped the opposition's backs in their own backfield to give the Cowboys perfect field position every time.

Wright's fantastic scoring rampage overshadowed the great blocking by the Canyon line which enabled Wright to get free.

These fifth graders completed their regular season undefeated and scored upon only once. Mike LaGrone and Tom Callarman are the head coaches for the Cowboys.

Allen Shankles scored the other touchdown while Hoss Ratliff and Sullivan plunged over for the extra points.



Billy Jack Wright picks up speed on his way to a Cowboy touchdown during Monday night's Toy Bowl game in Amarillo. Billy Wright scampered for five touchdowns in the Cowboys 42-0 win over Lawndale. The Canyon players are, no. 10, Allen Shankles and no. 37, Ken Cooper.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

I shot pictures of the homecoming parade Saturday.

I took six pictures of the queen's float. I tried from every feasible angle.

At right are contact prints of all six pictures.

I'll admit that I tried exceptionally hard to include Miss Claudia Stewart in a picture suitable for use in the newspaper.

My reasons for this are valid. She was news since she is the first Negro student ever to be a candidate for homecoming queen at West Texas State University.

Secondly, I was moved by the unseen pressure which seems to hover about dealings between blacks and whites this day and time. I knew that if Miss Stewart's picture did not appear in print I could expect a delegation in my office.

To prove that I tried, I call attention to frame four of the contact prints. It was the only picture I got which would have shown Miss Stewart at all.

Because of the angle from which I was forced (by position of the float and the girls' placement on it) to take the picture it turned out very uncomplimentary. Also, it did not show the queen off very well and she, after all, was the big news.

When we picked the picture to run in The Sunday News, we chose Frame 1 because it was the best picture. We had no thought of discrimination, racial or otherwise. We simply used the best picture as any editor worth his salt would do.

Tuesday afternoon two young men from the university called on me to protest the picture we chose because it did not show the Negro candidate. The implication of the visit was that we had been guilty of racial discrimination and bigotry--in spite of the fact that we carried the pictures of three black football players on the same page.

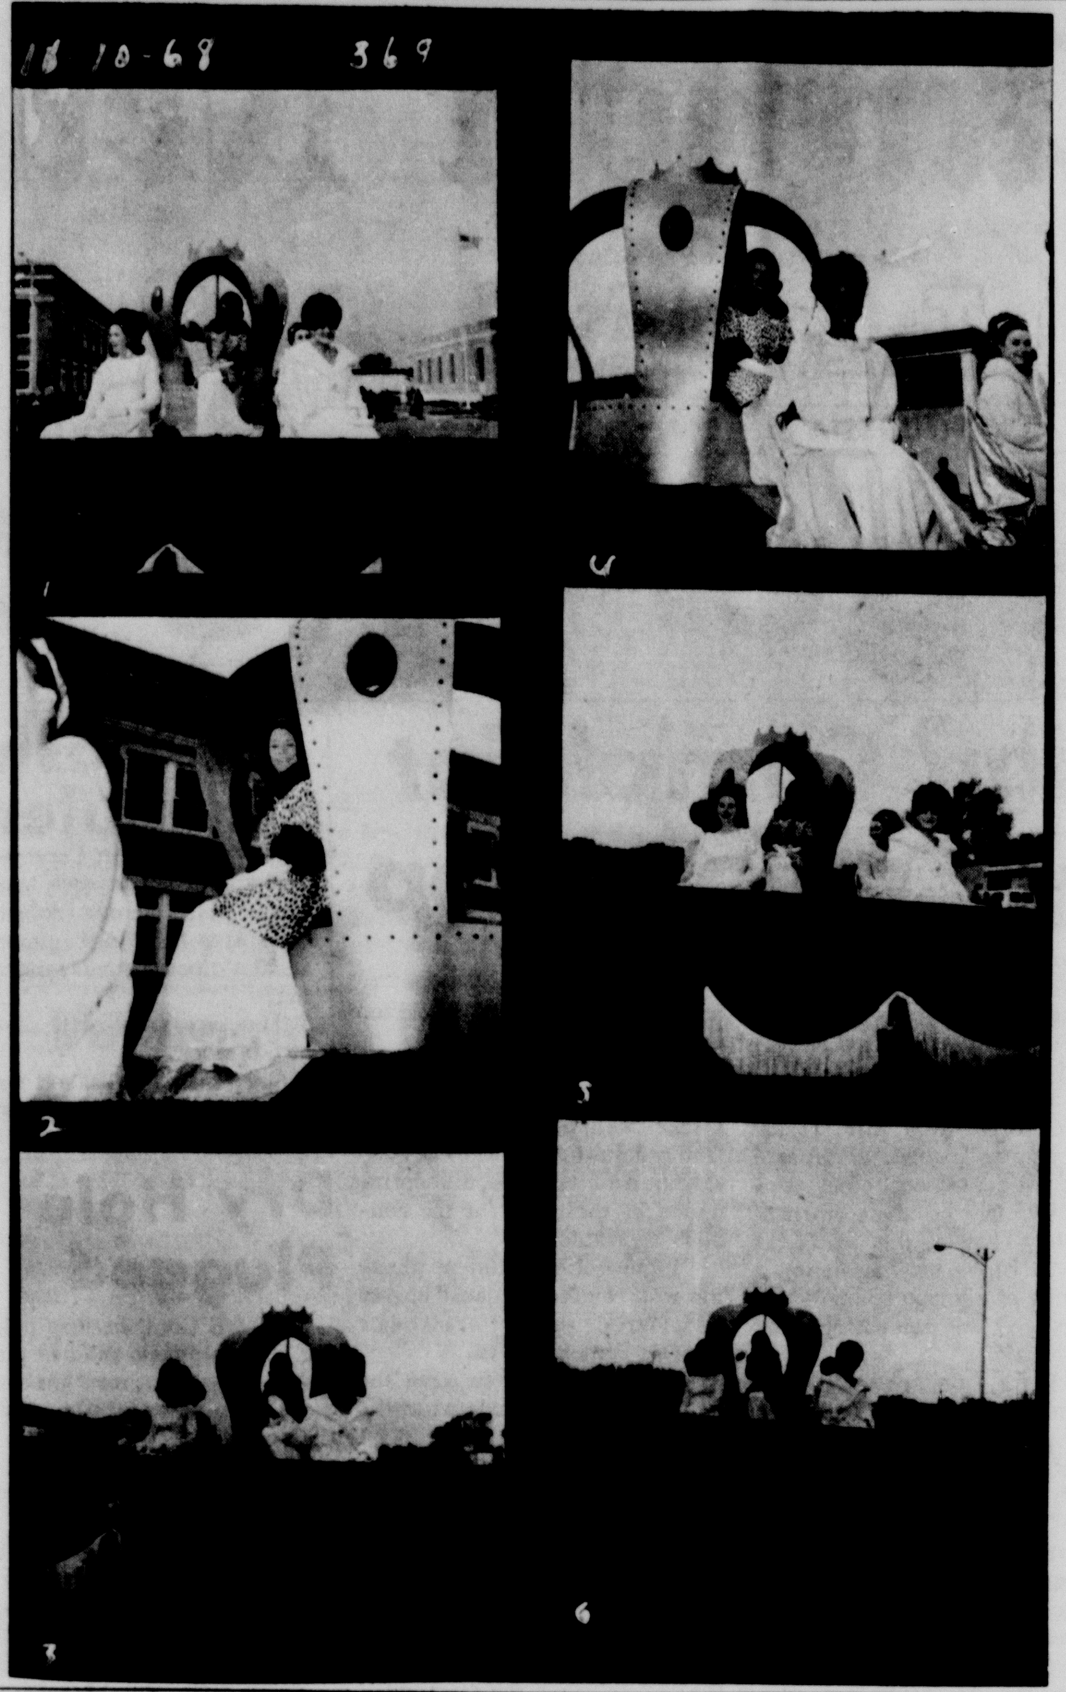
There was no protest about a white girl's picture having been blocked out by the girl in front of her on the float.

Let me point out here that no Negro protested our inability to show Miss Stewart in the picture. A Negro student visited in my office earlier in the day and he said nothing about it.

It was two white students who paid me the visit. One of them even asked me how I felt about the candidacy of Mr. Wallace for president, whatever that might have had to do with the case in point.

I think it evolved that the two young men who visited may have been well meaning and men of goodwill. I hope so.

However, I think they may be unwittingly practicing bigotry in reverse. This will not in the long run serve the best interests of the people they say they are trying to help.



Our World

OUR WORLD
By Ann Brown

Before the election returns had certified Mr. Nixon as our new president, there was, apparently, a plot to assassinate him.

Back in 1917 Lenin outlined his program for capturing the free world.

Communists' prophecy is analogous to African voodoo. When the witch doctor puts a curse on a man--he dies. If the poor victim does not die of fright--as he frequently does--the curse is implemented by a well-placed poisoned dart.

Lenin's prophecies have been implemented by an extremely efficient spy system in all the countries of the free world. (England and Mexico are currently perturbed--with good cause--by the size and activities of the Russian embassies in their midst.)

The only trap not yet sprung in America is the disarming of the populace, and its steel jaws are closing fast.

* * *

When President Kennedy could not push his liberal proposals through a conservative congress, he was murdered by an internationally known communist. The martyr's pending legislation rapidly became the laws of our land. When the civil rights movement was moving too slowly, Martin Luther King, Jr., was sacrificed on the red altar. That offering probably produced greater results than even the red priests had anticipated.

When the gun-control bill was facing almost-certain defeat, another sacrifice was in order. The reds probably chose Senator Robert Kennedy for two reasons: He had been outspoken in favor of gun controls, and his assassination would incite the leftist dupes in our country to more violent action. The gun-control bill promptly passed.

Why can this slaughter not be stopped?

* * *

If a neighbor threatens to burn a man's house down, he has two choices: He can shoot the would-be arsonist on the spot, or he can let him burn his home; either way the poor fellow is in trouble. No man can protect himself from unscrupulous persons by peaceful means.

The communists have vowed to bury us. If they have to shoot every president we elect to consumate their plans, they will not hesitate to do so. And it is highly unlikely that the most efficient secret service men can protect any chosen victim indefinitely.

* * *

The present gun-control law has much sharper teeth than it appears to have. The purchase of every bullet must be recorded. When we are required to register our guns, we must comply or buy no more ammunition. What good is a gun without bullets?

If the reds are convinced another sacrifice is necessary to disarm law-abiding Americans (it is already illegal for felons to possess guns), may God protect Mr. Nixon.

All types of trading stamps, with the exception of Buyer's Bonus stamps, are being accepted by the High Plains Children's Home in an effort to purchase a new pickup for the home.

Sponsored by area Churches of Christ, the home is located in north Randall County.

All residents desiring to assist with the project may bring stamp donations to the Central Church of Christ office in Canyon.

Randall Accidents Are Listed

Fourteen accidents, involving one fatality and seven injuries, were investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol in Randall County during October.

Sgt. W. E. Wells, patrol supervisor in this area, said the accidents also resulted in property damage estimated at $13,680.

Sgt. Wells said the rural traffic accident summary for Randall County during the first 10 months of this year show 128 accidents with four fatalities, 56 injuries and property damage of about $96,173.

SDS Loans

(An Editorial)

West Texas State University's Student Financial Aids Department has been accused of denying loans to students who have affiliation with Students for a Democratic Society.

Students for a Democratic Society boast that they have engaged in campus take over (Columbia), civil disobedience and efforts to disrupt the country's selective service system.

SDS has been branded by no less an authority than FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as a tool of the communist party. Much of its national leadership is made up of people who admit they are communists.

The SDS blatantly declares that it advocates the overthrow of the "establishment" which means the present system of government in this country. The SDS has openly engaged in programs which would give aid and comfort to the enemy which our soldiers at this moment are fighting in the field.

Why should members of such an organization be given loans from a fund meant to help struggling students become better citizens?

If Morris has indeed denied loans to members of the SDS we say "Hooray for Morris!"

SAC Sponsors Musical Duo

Sam and Dave who produced hit records of "Soul Man", "Hold On, I'm Coming" and "When Something Is Wrong With My Baby" will perform in the West Texas State University fieldhouse Monday evening, November 18, at 8 o'clock.

Sponsored by the Student Activities Council at WT, tickets are being sold in the Student Union Building on campus. Admission is $3 per person or $1.25 with student ID.

The Sam and Dave duo originated in 1961 at a nightclub in Miami, Florida. In the spring of 1967, the duo played England and the European continent.

Bird Count Is Rising

A bird census Wednesday at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge shows about 3,700 ducks on the lake and a count of 53 Canadian geese.

Of the 3,700 ducks counted, the majority are mallards followed in smaller numbers by green wing teal, pintails and others. A weekly census is made of the wildlife at the refuge.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Martin:

I really address this to ALL those who are concerned about the future of our youth today and tomorrow.

Wisdom can be defined as a wise attitude or course of action. In this highly trained and educated world there is great intelligence at every level of our daily lives, but where is that old quality of wisdom? Is it really as rare as it seems or has it just been shoved aside for pride, pettiness and selfishness? Have we lost our sense of reality and common sense or is it that we just don't care anymore? Let's hope the latter isn't the case.

I sit thinking about the youngster arrested for the sale of LSD (I feel peculiar calling him a "youngster", because I exceed him in age by only four years.) I see myself, and many others, both now and later, in his place, except for minor events and major influences. What only happens "to somebody else" has happened here. Are our children going to face the same things as this boy, or will we, with the help of the strength of God, humble ourselves and dedicate ourselves to show them a different way.

Charity, and love, truth and honor, begin at home. It seems that these have been forgotten. Of course our children are loved. Look at all the cars bought for boys who aren't even legally old enough to drive--out of love. And the daughters who are allowed to stay out until midnight and later--out of love. What do we feel when the boy lies in a casket from racing that car too fast, or the daughter tearfully tells you she's pregnant? What keeps that from happening? Maybe only a heartbeat--or is it parental love and guidance, and protection? Do you care enough to really guide and watch them, or are you afraid of insulting them or hurting their feelings?

Yes, America is in trouble, but I believe parents expressing love and using wisdom can again lift us to glory and greatness. I thank God that I had wise parents who used insight as well as love in raising me. I believe I love them more and they love me more for it. God help me as I face the role of parenthood in only a few months. I only hope that other parents join me in a willingness to dedication to our greatest possession: our children.

Sincerely,
A Canyon resident.

Military Fascinates Marine Veteran Of Vietnam War

The military holds a certain fascination for Mike Rankin.

He was--though in spirit only --fighting the Japanese in the South Pacific and the Germans in France during World War II

He was fighting--this time in spirit and body--the communists in Korea in the early 1950s.

For 12 years he was a Marine.

And, although 12 years is enough of the military for almost anybody, it was not enough for Rankin.

Now, he's starting all over again, almost from the bottom--as a cadet in the Reserve Officer Training Corps at West Texas State University.

At 36 years of age, he's twice as old as some of his corps cohorts and about the same age as some of the regular Army military science instructors.

As an ex-Marine, he feels none of the inter-service rivalry. He just plain likes the military.

While he was in Amarillo High School Rankin joined the Marine Corps Reserves. Just a month following graduation he was a Marine regular.

The country was involved in a Far East non-war and Rankin and a few of his friends felt like they should do their part.

He ended up as a machine gunner with the First Marines and he treked from one end of Korea to the other.

"I was in the regulars for three years," Rankin said. "And, I was in the reserves nine years after I got out."

He wasn't really obligated to stay in the reserves as long as he did.

"I just did it out of pure gung-honess," he said.

In September of 1953, he entered WTSU and subsequently the military science program.

In 1955 he withdrew from school. He came back in 1958 for only a semester.

He happened upon an opportunity in 1966 which eventually led him back to WT.

He worked in Alaska on a sea-going tugboat until October of 1967 when he landed in Houston. He picked up his family, which he had left here while in Alaska, and in February of 1968, he again returned to WT.

This fall he joined the ROTC program again.

"I'm still an undergraduate," he said. "I'm about a half sophomore and a half junior."

Even so, he lacks just a year and a semester in finishing his military science courses.

"Actually, I'm too old to be in the program," he said. He doesn't get paid and he will have a tough time getting any kind of commission.

"If I don't get a commission," he said, "I'll just have to apply direct."

He wants to get back in the service.

"I'm too old for the Marines," he said. "But, if I could I'd take a Marine commission. If I can't, I will take any if they'll give it to me."

On the other hand, Rankin said, "I could go through the National Guard program and be commissioned and then apply for active duty."

But, commission or no commission, he is intent now upon getting his B. A. degree in physical education with a minor in psychology. He would also like to get a M. A. in both subjects.

Mike Rankin, 36, takes a weapon from the armory rack of the military science department at West Texas State University. Rankin, an ex-marine is a member of the ROTC corps at WT.

heard something."

Simpson told officers he has never taken LSD himself.

Simpson's mother called the high school principal Tuesday morning and told him Simpson would remain home until noon because his father was ill.

After a conference, District Attorney George Dowlen decided to move in immediately instead of waiting for Simpson to return to school.

Randall Deputy Ray Tinsley accompanied Costley to Amarillo to make the arrest. Officers were given permission to search the Simpson home but they found nothing incriminating.

"Calvin did a fine job on this case," said Dowlen. "He built it and he stayed after it."

Simpson was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson and his bond was set at $5,000. Amarillo Attorney Frank Baughman was retained to represent him.

After a two-hour session Tuesday night, Canyon school board voted to expell five boys including Simpson. Two boys, other than Simpson were expelled indefinitely.

Two others were expelled until they bring their parents to school with them and agree to mend their ways.

At the board meeting, school officials revealed that they had known of the drug investigation for some times but had not made a move for fear of upsetting Costley's investigation. School authorities have cooperated with officers on the case.

"We have known about the glue sniffing since the first of school," said High School Principal John Sommers.

This is not the first appearance of LSD in Canyon. Back in the early 1960s a small group of devotees to hallucinatory drugs was discovered on the West Texas State University campus.

University and county officials were chagrined to find that there was no law against use of the drugs at that time.

The group mostly used peyote, a cactus bud with a mescaline content. Use of the drug induced hallucinations in much the same manner as LSD.

An Amarillo psychiatrist told The News that lysergic acid is extremely dangerous. It is used under strict supervision by psychiatrists to induce synthetic schizophrenia in patients. Unsupervised use could result in death or permanent damage to the brain, the psychiatrist said.

It was only last year that a law was placed on the books making illegal sale of LSD a felony.

Chief Costley said glue sniffin is extremely dangerous and can bring about very painful death. He told of one boy in Amarillo who is doomed to die within the next two years as a result of sniffing glue.

Sausage Feed Is Successful

The annual Umbarger German Sausage Festival was well attended despite chilly winds, according to Richard E. Friemel, chairman.

Friemel said Tuesday that "2,530 tickets were sold to the dinner" and with pre-school children being fed feee he estimated the dinner about 3,000 persons.

According to Friemel, estimated proceeds from the bazaar amounted to $250 and from the country store to $300.

The conference will end at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Support Is Sought By Boosters

The Buffalo Cagers Boosters Club is looking for more supporters to help back the Buffs during the 1968-69 season.

Coach Walling and Mr. William Adams, President of the Boosters Club, are hoping that the people of Canyon and the surrounding communities come to see the fine play of the Buff cagers and help support the West Texas Basketball program.

Season tickets are now on sale in the athletic office at the West Texas State field house. Season tickets for 12 games are $24. Tickets for separate games are $2.50 and can be picked up before every home game in the field house.

Anyone interested in joining the West Texas Basketball Boosters Club may contact Mr. William Adams at the First National Bank in Canyon or Coach Dennis Walling at the West Texas State field house.

Panel Scrutinizes Problems In Morality

BY CARROLL WILSON

Two professors at West Texas State University, a Catholic minister and a student took pot shots at each other Tuesday night following a film entitled "The New Morality: Challenge of the Student Generation," but agreed upon little other than that each had his own definition and theory of religion, morality and the church.

The discussion, which involved a panel including Dr. Hubert Oppe of the sociology department, Dr. Charles Findley of the psychology department, the Rev. George Sallaway, and Tom Boutell, a student, was sponsored by the Campus Christian Community.

In relation to the film and its theme of student involvement in religion or morality, Dr. Findley said he doubts "that two per cent of the 7,200 students at West Texas would have given the film a second thought if they had seen it."

He said he feels the majority of the students involved in religion, the church and morality, "don't try to verbalize. The values are things you can't verbalize."

Dr. Findley later in the discussion reinforced his idea that perhaps the belief that students are actually concerned about religion is the belief in a fallacy.

Much of the discussion involved the defining of terms, a question first brought up by Boutell.

Dr. Oppe was the first to respond to Boutell's question.

"Every human being has to grope with his conception of self--what am I doing here? where am I going? these things," he said. "David Reisman in his book, The Lonely Crowd, says people used to tend to be tradition oriented. Their values were past dominated. . .

"This was based on fear to a large degree.

"Later on, they became inner directed--the people said 'I want to select what I want to accept.'

"Then later, after World War II, we have the other directed, who look to other significant individuals in terms of what their values are.

"We have become lonely."

He said that since the 1950s, a new trend toward privatism has developed. People have, he said, become involved in their own private world. He said the church must become involved.

There was disagreement, too, over the purpose of a church.

Dr. Findley said a church is a gathering of people where it is possible to feel the presence of God.

Dr. Oppe said the purpose is to make better human beings.

He said the real issue of the new morality is that the organized church has become irrelevant to a large degree.

One problem in the church which most of the panelists agreed upon is that because of burgeoning institutions in other areas of society, the church is losing many of its former areas of work and some of its former areas of finances.

Chili, beans, coleslaw, cherry cobbler, tea or coffee will be served and tickets are $1 for students and adults.

Buffaloes To Wind Up Season Against CSU

West Texas State journeys to Colorado State University Saturday for its final game of the 1968 campaign.

The Buffs, now with a season standing of 7-2, will pit All-American running back candidate Eugene "Mercury" Morris against a tough Colorado State defense led by two-year letterman Bill Kishman, 6-foot-2. 205-pound safetyman, and Rod Doney at the free safety slot.

Kishman, the Rams' All-American candidate, tops Colorado State's defensive statistics with 49 unaided tackles, 68 tackle assists, 5 intercepted passes, 8 passes broken up and 2 fumble recoveries.

Tom Robinson, one-year letterwinner, is also a key man in the Ram defensive unit. Robinson had an outstanding season as a starter in 1966, but missed all last season, plus 1968 spring practice, because of a knee injury which required surgery.

Tim Dennison, 209-pound linebacker, is listed as the Rams' top defensive lineman. Dennison is credited with 20 unassisted tackles, 40 assisted tackles, one pass broken up and two fumble recoveries.

Colorado's defense will be challenged by explosive Buffalo backs Morris, Duane Thomas and Albie Owens.

Morris, who needs only 106 yards to become the national all-time collegiate rusher, gained 260 yards in a school record-breaking 38 carries in last week's 53-36 victory over Western Michigan.

The 260 yards by Morris makes him the second leading collegiate ball carrier of all-time with 3,276 yards, leaving him only behind the mark set by Arizona's Art Luppino of 3,381 yards. Luppino compiled his total in four years, whereas Morris has managed his yardage in only three seasons.

Morris also needs only 112 yards to break the national rushing record for a single season of 1,570 yards set by Fred Wendt of the University of Texas at El Paso in 1948.

In last week's game, Morris broke loose for runs of 77, 38, and 3 yards.

Thomas, 220-pound fullback, scored twice last week on runs of 11 and 14 yards. Owens, 5-foot-10, 215-pound fullback, scored once from one yard out.

Colorado State's offense will be spearheaded by 205-pound split end Terry Swarn and 6-foot-1, 201-pound senior quarterback Jerry Montiel.

Montiel, who will be shooting to lead the Rams away from a three-game losing streak, was sidelined with a hand injury for the University of Pacific game, but came on in relief of sophomore Chip Maxwell against Wyoming and sparked Colorado to its second touchdown.

Swarn has 28 pass receptions for 364 yards and three touchdowns for the season.

Charlie Piggee, 188-pound Ram back, leads the Colorado State offense in rushing with 452 yards on 113 carries for 4.0 yard per carry average.

Fifteen seniors will be playing their final game for West Texas this week. These include Byron Jones, end; Roy Winters, quarterback; Eugene Morris and Curley Watters, halfbacks; Albie Owens, fullback; A. Z. Drones, Larry Brazon, Bill Hatchett and Jesse Powell, tackles; Jackie Wilson, Willie Brown and Lydell Dauster, guards; Ron King and Carl Heilman, linebackers; and Gary Clark, flanker.

West Texas, who defeated the Rams 24-14 last year, leads in the over-all series 2-1.

Morris Nears Rushing Title

You've heard it said that something happens in less time than it takes to tell it.

Such a happening is Eugene "Mercury" Morris, a modern day messenger who delivers touchdowns and football rushing records for West Texas State.

Take this example from a recent game:

1st & 10 on West Texas 16--Morris loses to WT 11.

2-15--Morris no gain.

3-15--Morris 89 yards for touchdown.

"Any other team in the country would pass on third and 15," an observer commented. "But not this bunch; they're more sure of getting the yardage by giving the ball to that Morris kid."

Morris is no small Texas college phenomenon, a one-year flash. Probably more professional scouts have watched Morris in the past two years than any other collegian in the country.

Going into his last college game Saturday at Colorado State University, Morris leads the major college division in rushing with 1,459 yards in nine games and in scoring with 108 points. Sixteen of his 18 touchdowns have come on runs from scrimmage. The others were on passes--one for 81 yards and one for 53 yards.

The 190-pound Morris, who has been timed in full equipment by pro scouts in 4.5 seconds for 40 yards, has only four touchdown runs of less than 20 yards. Seven scoring runs were in excess of 50 yards and five were 65 yards or longer.

With one NCAA rushing record already beside his name, Morris, 21, is on the edge of acquiring two more in concluding a three-year career.

He needs 106 yards to surpass the 3,381-yard career rushing record set by Arizona's Art Luppino in four seasons, 1953-56, and 112 yards to better the 20-year-old single season mark of 1,570 yards made by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines. Earlier this season he set an NCAA single game rushing mark of 340 yards.

Morris, who rushed for 1,274 yards last year when he was runnerup to All-American O. J. Simpson of Southern California, has 3,276 career yards exclusive of 173 yards in a post-season bowl victory in 1967.

Morris, whose massive arms and upper body aid him in breaking sure tackles, was used sparingly as a runner in his sophomore year when West Texas featured a passing game. He gained 543 yards on 88 carries.

Under the Buffaloes' pro-style offense Morris does not carry the ball as frequently as other celebrated backs in the country. In only three games this season he has carried more than 25 times and has 228 carries in nine games--19 less than Simpson who has played in two fewer contests. Last year when he won the national rushing title Simpson had 75 more carries than Morris and played in one less game.

Morris, who came to West Texas from Pittsburgh, Pa., and maintains a B average in his major field, speech theraphy, is an adept pass receiver, unnerves defenses every time he moves and is concerned about his blocking.

"I never threw a block in high school," he says. "I worry about my blocking."

Only a 160-pounder in high school, Morris says "my senior year I started fooling around with weights." At one time he could bench press 360 pounds.

In one game his senior year in high school he carried the ball five times, gained 294 yards and scored four touchdowns. He didn't play the remainder of the game.

Does the prospect of setting records and of having 11 opposing tacklers seeking to dismantle him on each play bother Morris?

"Each week gets harder and harder," he says. "They know I'm out there. I would like to be a sleeper. I play the game like it is touch football. I try to score every time I get my hands on the ball."

The most many tacklers have been able to do is touch Morris in passing.

Weather Records

Below are the readings from the Canyon Weather Station on the campus of West Texas State University. These are for the days of Nov. 6 through Nov. 11.

Morris and Powell NamedOutstanding

Eugene "Mercury" Morris was named outstanding offensive player in Saturday's West Texas State University-Western Michigan football game.

Announcement of the honor came Monday night at the weekly meeting of the WT Buffalo Touchdown Club.

Morris, West Texas' all-American candidate, is second place in all-time career rushing.

Looking toward next Saturday's game against Colorado State University in Fort Collins, head Coach Joe Kerbel said "we have a very difficult game coming up.

When asked about a possible bowl game bid for the Buffs, Kerbel said he has heard of no bid so far, but would be interested. Last year, the Buffs played in the Junior Rose Bowl in California.

It was also announced by the club that an airplane will be chartered to fly to the game in Fort Collins. The plane will leave Amarillo Air Terminal between 10 and 10:30 a.m. Saturday and will return following the afternoon game.

Price for the plane ride will be $47 for a round-trip ticket. More information is available at 355-2641 in Amarillo.

Buff Cage Opener Scheduled Nov. 30

West Texas State University's Cagers open their 1968-69 campaign on Nov. 30 against Weber State at the Amarillo Civic Center.

With two weeks remaining before the first game Coach Dennis Walling is a little optimistic about his chances concerning this season's success.

The Buffalo Cagers are lacking a little in height but not in offensive power. The Buffs are led by All-American Candidate Simmie Hill, a six foot six forward from Midland, Pennsylvania.

Mike Mitchell, a two year letterman from Roswell, New Mexico, along with Gale Rhine, a one year letterman from Dupo, Illinois, will give Simmie Hill plenty of experience.

New to this year's squad are Gene Murdock, a six foot five junior college transfer from Columbus, Kansas and James McCloud, a six foot five junior college transfer from Linden, New Jersey.

Three other junior college transfers are Nat Miller from Brooklyn, New York; Dale Blaut from Maywood, New Jersey and Ron Howle from Allen Park, Michigan.

Eagles To Muleshoe For AAA Tilt Friday

The Canyon Eagles football team travels to Muleshoe Friday evening for a game with the fast improving Mules in 3-AAA conference clash.

The Eagles feel that their chances will be better against the Mules after their fine play in the 28-0 trimming at the hands of Perryton.

The Mules present a more equally matched team in that their boys are not as big or experienced. Coach Dunny Goode feels that Muleshoe will be hard to beat on their own field, but if the Eagles continue to hit they have an even chance.

The Mules have a smaller line than Perryton but a quicker backfield led by Roger Swint one of the finest halfbacks in the Panhandle area.

Quarterback Ronnie Barrett will have plenty of speed in Fullback Charles Beamon and receiver Bobby Burge.

The Eagle's attack will be led by Dave Erwin, Lon Conners, Dave Thompson and Max Bosley at quarterback.

Blocking in the line will be Hickman, Bull, Hull and Schrib.

The defense will be spearheaded by Dick Podzemny, Craig Parker, Tom Tucker and Doug Hooker.

The game will be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening at Muleshoe.

WT Profe ssor Authors Book

"You have told us what is wrong, now tell us what to do to correct it."

Mrs. Wilma Jo Bush, assistant professor of education at West Texas State University, attempted to answer this question posed for years by parents who have children with learning disabilities.

Mrs. Bush has signed a contract with Charles Merrill Company for publication of a handbook on "Remedial Techniques for Children with Psycho-Linguistic Disabilities."

Mrs. Bush said that she had been using the Illinois Test of Psycho-Linguistic Abilities, on which the handbook is based, for 10 years and could never tell parents enough about correcting the problems of their children.

Mrs. Bush said that there had not been a book published in this field when she conceived the idea.

The techniques suggested are chosen for different age level interest and dimensions of difficulty in mind, Mrs. Bush said.

The book will be included in a series of books on slow-learning with written or edited by Dr. Newell C. Kepart, one of the leading men in the field of learning disabilities.

It is being revised by Marian Giles, the former Marian Taylor of Canyon, while she is doing doctoral work at the University of Colorado.

Mrs. Bush was aided in compiling the book by WT graduate students who provided activities to be used in correcting certain linguistic problems.

"The students had a fine learning situation as well as being able to contribute something to the field," Mrs. Bush said.

The handbook was published uncopywrited by the Panhandle Education Services Organization in 1967. Dr. Kephart became interested in the book through a professor from Arizona, Mrs. Bush said.

Dr. Kephart hopes that the book can go to the publisher by Dec. 1, she said.

The handbook is now being used by teachers in Canada, Colorado, Arizona, Michigan, California, Montana, Wisconsin, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma as well as about 200 teachers in the Plains area.

These teachers heard of the book through word of mouth, Mrs. Bush said, so the book must be meeting a need.

MRS. WILMA JO BUSH, assistant professor of education at West Texas State University, is shown with a handbook which has been compiled during the summer of 1967 on remedial techniques for psycholinguistic disabilities. The handbook has been contracted for publication soon.

Easy Entertaining Topic Of HD Clubs

"Easy Entertaining" is the subject of a program being presented this month by home demonstration agent, Becky Hall, for the ten home demonstration clubs of the county.

Mrs. Hall demonstrates her program through the use of a chart, a discussion and distribution of pamphlets.

"You should base your entertaining," said Mrs. Hall, "on the equipment, time allowed, space you have, assistance you will have, and the money involved."

"In preparation for parties," she said, "Invitations should be sent out a week to ten days in advance and in the present trend, a telephone invitation is suitable except for the most formal occasions."

"Housecleaning and food preparations should be done as much in advance as possible such as flower arrangements for the table, and purchase of storable items.

"Shopping lists are important to consider. Some things may be bought ahead while others must be purchased at the last minute.

"Timing of preparations may also be listed for things to go off smoothly. . . and the hostess should also allow ample time (an hour) in which to get dressed for the occasion.

"It is important for the hostess to enjoy the party as much as the guests. The hostess should spend as much time as possible with the guests rather than being absent in the kitchen while the party is in progress.

"Among types of easy entertaining are coffees, brunches, teas, special meals, luncheons, dinners, buffets, and barbecues.

"The brunch is becoming a popular hostess event in recent years and at the brunch, according to Mrs. Hall, any type of food may be served in finger-size including pre-dinner appetizers."

A reference book which Mrs. Hall suggests is "Betty Crocker's Guide to Easy Entertaining". She said that any party-wise suggestions and formal etiquette book is handy as a reference guide, but must be adapted to the individual family situation.

"Children's parties should be kept informal and light with the refreshments being geared to the child and his friends," Mrs. Hall stated. Special idea cakes such as cut-up and arranged cakes forming lions, rabbits, butterflies, elephants, teddy bears, etc. are always a highlight to a children's party.

Each of the programs this month is being opened with a roll call on "what I admire in a hostess" and concluded with share the party ideas.

In conclusion, Mrs. Hall stated that "hospitality is not a contest. . . it is sharing the best you have with your friends."

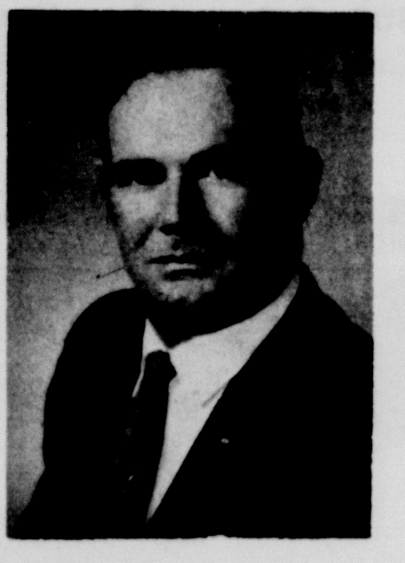
IN APPRECIATION



It is with a great sense of humility that I extend my appreciation to the voters of the 75th Legislative District of Texas for the trust you have placed in me. I am also deeply grateful to the various committees and individuals who gave their time, money and in many other ways, helped my campaign for the office. Without your trust and dedication my election would have been impossible.

I would also like to extend an invitation to everyone in the district to contact me on the various issues that will confront us as we enter the new season of legislative work. Your opinions and ensight into the problems and needs of the district will weigh heavily on any decision I will be called on to make in the legislature.

Again Thanking Each Of You.

"If I have questions about bills, payment arrangements, or some other telephone matter, whom do I call?"

Here's the expert.

She's your telephone service representative. To many telephone users, she is the phone company. She answers questions, provides personal number booklets, directories and duplicate bills. She helps you get new phones installed. As a service representative, she has to be something of a lady executive, a bit of a diplomat and an expert in phone service. And she is. She was hired from a select group of applicants and put through an extensive training program. And she attends regular meetings to discuss customer service. Next time you need help on a telephone problem, just call the telephone business office. Your service representative will take it from there.

CANYON HISTORIAN Mrs. Clyde Warwick, right, visits with Mrs. Nolon Henson of the University Study Club as the two discuss a photograph of Brigadier General Horace Randal and his bride and an early day photo of Canyon.

Historian Relates Activities Of Past

"Youth of Yesteryear" was the title for a program given by Mrs. Clyde Warwick, Canyon historian, at last Friday's meeting of the University Study Club in the Girl Scout Building.

Introducted by Mrs. Nolon Henson, Mrs. Warwick gave several highlights of history concerning Randall County and early pioneers and concluded her talk by showing several early day pictures of the town and Brigadier General and Mrs. Horace Randal, for whom the county was named.

"Thanksgiving was celebrated in Palo Duro Canyon 16 years before the original celebration held in the east," said Mrs. Warwick.

She related that "two of the first families of the area were the Goodnights and the Adairs and it was often a six month period between neighborly visits.

"The first houses on the plains were of sod. Others were complete and half-dugouts.

"Water was carried or hauled in from the springs and the women took their washing to the creeks. Exhausted after a day of washing at the creek. . .they spent many hours laboring over flat irons to keep the family clothing fit.

In her discussion, Mrs. Warwick told of a "family from Wayside who went to Amarillo for supplies which was a four day trip in those days without seeing a soul in between. The supply trips included two overnight stops just south of the present Canyon city limits."

In comparison with travel modes today, Mrs. Warwick suggested counting the number of cars which you meet now on one trip to Amarillo.

She said that the "L. T. Lester home was the first house built in Canyon" and noted that the first four families coming to settle in Canyon (the Connors, Hellers, Hammons and Nick Thompsons) were all of different religions.

In conclusion, Mrs. Warwick stated that "pioneers were a brave people united for a common cause".

Mrs. William B. Davis, club president, was in charge of a business session which included a report on a federated club worskhop held in Clarendon recently. The report was given by Mrs. Murphy White.

Mrs. Bruce Winn, Mrs. Bob Lindsey, and Mrs. T. G. Hull, Jr. joined voices to sing "Texas, Our Texas" accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Dietz.

Various gifts were brought for the state hospital at Wichita Falls and in observance of American Education Week, a display of books was arranged in the meeting room.

The hostesses, Mrs. Duane Howard, Mrs. Bill Adams and Mrs. R. B. Gist, Jr., served refreshments to Mesdames Eugene Bonds, G. J. Bonds, Jr., Robert B. Brotherton, Manly Bryan, Jozach Byrd, Wm. B. Davis, Gerald Dietz, J. R. Hampton, Morris Henderson, Nolon Henson, Truett Hull, Jerry Jacobs, Sam Jolly, Tom Keeling, Bob Lindsey, Lee Roy Moreland, Gene Morrison, Foster Parker, James M. White, Bruce Winn, Wayne Wirt and Robert Wright.

EVERYONE HAS MOLES

Moles usually follow this pattern. They are black or brown and flat. As time goes on they may become elevated and lighter in color. Some never change. Eventually most will slowly disappear, appearing to fade into the skin. Others may raise so high from the skin that they grow a small "stalk." Sometimes moles may darken, or grow hairs.

The vast majority of moles are benign. But any type of spot or blemish which itches, bleeds, becomes painful or suddenly changes in size, shape, or color is suspect. Show it to your physician.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

Two army buddies, one Korean and the other American, were reunited over the weekend in Canyon for the first time since the Korean War.

Seo Kwang Bin of Peagu, Korea, who is a civilian employee of the United States 8th Army in Korea, visited with Burl Hamlin of Happy and his family in Canyon.

Seo who was called Eric by the soldiers during the Korean conflict, was 18 when the war began and served as an interpreter for American soldiers.

Hamblen was in the medical corp during the war and worked closely with Seo and the two men became close friends, according to Mrs. Alfred Hamblen of Canyon, Burl's mother.

Seo has advanced in the American army and is now with the supply depot. He came to the United States for training in logistics at Ft. Lee, Va. along with several other men from other countries. The Hamblen's bought his plane ticket to fly to Amarillo from Virginia during his stay here. This is his first visit to the United States.

Mrs. Alfred Hamblen has corresponded with Seo and his wife and children frequently.

"Before he married, we tried to get him to the states to go to school," Mrs. Hamblen said, "but we didn't have the right connections."

SEO KWANG BIN

"It is very hard to get a student out of Korea," she said. Seo has continued his studies in Korea and is now classified as a college sophomore.

"He said that there was not much opportunity for study in Korea and he would still like to come to America to school and we will continue to try to arrange it," Mrs. Hamblen said.

Seo is interested in data processing and computer science.

While in Canyon, Seo visited the campus of West Texas State University.

"He is a fine person and sharp, intelligent and ambitious," Mrs. Hamblen said.

Seo was to return to Korea Sunday, Nov. 17.

Homemaker Shares Seasonal Favorites

Mrs. John O'Connor shares four holiday-style recipes with our readers this week including Creamy Pralines, Pumpkin Bread, Bean Salad and Apricot Salad.

Mrs. O'Connor, the former Deloris Roberts, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts of Honey Grove, Texas and has three brothers, Harold, Don and Mike still in the area of Honey Grove.

She graduated from Honey Grove High School, and earned the bachelor of science degree in home economics from East Texas State University in Commerce.

In 1962, she and John O'Connor of Petty were married. Petty is a small community near Honey Grove and his mother, Mrs. Maness O'Connor still lives there. He has a brother, Sam, at Petty, and a brother, Richard at Bonham.

He also graduated from Honey Grove High School and earned the bachelor of science degree in agronomy from Texas A & M University after which he worked for DeKalb Seed Company, then served two years with the United States Army and after his discharge went into the Soil Conservation Service. He has been stationed at Perryton, Follet, Brownwood and Canyon with the Soil Conservation Service.

He is presently the head of the SCS work in Randall County and is associated with the Junior Livestock Association for the county as a member.

The O'Connors are members of the First Methodist Church where she is active in the Women's Society of Christian Service.

A kindergarten student at the Little Red Schoolhouse, the couple's only daughter, Susan Dee, is five years old.

About hobbies, Mrs. O'Connor said that they both share an interest in gardening and she has a special liking for chrysanthemums with several varieties in the backyard.

She also said that her husband is interested in athletics and she enjoys sewing.

Her favorite recipes are:

CREAMY PRALINES
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup evaporated milk or thin cream
1/8 tsp. salt
2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup granulated sugar
1/8 tsp. soda
1/2 stick butter
2 cups pecans, slightly toasted

Mix all ingredients except vanilla and pecans. Cook over low heat until the mixture reaches the soft ball stage on candy thermometer (or forms soft ball in cold water). Stir occasionally to prevent sticking.

Add vanilla and cool. Beat until candy begins to thicken. Drop by spoonfuls onto waxed paper. Leave on paper until formed and cool. Will make about 20 pieces.

PUMPKIN BREAD
1 cup cooking oil
4 eggs
2/3 cup cold water
2 cups pumpkin
3 cups sugar
3 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 Tbsp. flour to mix with nuts and raisins
3 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1 cup nuts

Mix oil, sugar and eggs. Beat lightly. Sift dry ingredients. Alternate adding dry ingredients with water to oil-sugar mixture. Add pumpkin and nuts-raisins which have been rolled in the flour. Mix well.

Pour into four lightly floured coffee cans. Fill cans only about 1/2 full.

Bake for one hour at 350 degrees. Slice and serve or freeze in the coffee cans. May also be baked in loaf pan or tube pan.

BEAN SALAD
1 can shoestring beans
1 can baby lima beans
1 small can English peas
3-4 pieces of celery
1 sweet pepper
1 large can pimento
1 red onion

Drain juice from all canned items and mix in large bowl. In second bowl mix together: 1 cup sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup cooking oil.

Pour dressing over bean mixture and refrigerate overnight for best flavor.

APRICOT SALAD
2 pkg. orange jello
2 cups boiling water
1 cup pineapple and apricot juice, mixed
1 large can apricots, mashed
1 large can pineapple, chopped
10 marshmallows

Dissolve jello in hot water. Add marshmallows and stir until they melt. Add other ingredients. Pour into mold and let set overnight or several hours in refrigerator. After mixture is firm add second layer.

1 cup pineapple and apricot juice, mixed
1/2 cup sugar
2 heaping tsp. flour
1 egg, well beaten
2 Tbsp. butter

Mix together in saucepan and cook until thick. Remove from heat and allow to cool. Then blend in one cup of cream, whipped. Spread over jelled bottom layer and refrigerate until firm. May garnish with grated cheese before serving.

HOMEMAKER OF THE WEEK Mrs. John O'Connor selects recipes to share with our readers this week including several favorites appropriate for the holidays. She is pictured with a coffee cup and a slice of Pumpkin Bread topped with whipped cream.

My sincere appreciation for your help and support of my candidacy for Randall County Commissioner
